The delivery by the Seller of Goods which are not free from defects is not considered to be the performance of obligation. The delivery of Goods which are not free from defects shall be understood as cases when the Seller delivers Goods other than those specified in the agreement, Goods in an improper quantity, defective Goods or Goods without the required documentation.

20.5

DAM-ROB may refuse to accept the Goods before the agreed delivery date. In the event of refusal, the Seller shall bear all costs and risks related to the storage of the Goods until the agreed date of delivery of the Goods.

22.4

If, as a result of force majeure, DAM-ROB cannot collect the Goods in the agreed place, the Seller shall not be entitled to any compensation claims against DAM-ROB for delay in the acceptance of the Goods. In such a case, the Seller may not demand from DAM-ROB the performance of mutual obligation under the agreement either. Force majeure within the meaning of these Terms and Conditions shall mean any unforeseen, unavoidable and serious events such as natural disasters, war, riots, unrest, strikes, administrative and other measures. If the Seller cannot fulfil the request submitted by DAM-ROB within the time limit set by DAM-ROB, DAM-ROB may withdraw from the agreement and return the Goods at the Seller's risk and expense. The related costs shall be borne by the Seller. DAM-ROB is entitled to deduct (also to offset) costs related to the performance of the above-mentioned repairs from receivables due to the Seller towards DAM-ROB.

23.4

The related costs shall be borne by the Seller. DAM-ROB is entitled to deduct (also to offset) costs related to the performance of the above-mentioned repairs from receivables due to the Seller towards DAM-ROB.
